

BABY BUILDER

Museum de Fundatie

ABOUT

The Baby Builder is an interactive installation in which visitors can design their own child through genetic engineering. Prevent nasty genetic diseases, increase intelligence and while you're at it, make your child extra social and empathetic right away. Some people might like this speculative scenario, others might not. Whatever your point of view may be, the Baby Builder challenges the audience to confront the ethical and moral questions raised by the development of genetic engineering.

WHY BOOK THIS PROJECT?

The Baby Builder focuses on the future of humanity and questions what species we will be. It challenges your visitors to think critically about the ethical challenges of technology and the future that they want to live in. How far are they willing to go in modifying their unborn child and where do they draw the line? The installation provokes, raises awareness and sparks discussion about genetic engineering before it becomes a part of our reality. The Baby Builder has proven to be a perfect match for places (e.g. festivals, exhibitions, museums, schools) on the cutting edge of technology, science and art.

COSTS

The costs for booking or buying the Baby Builder highly depends on your wishes. A good indication for renting in the Netherlands is around €500 per day. Contact me for a tailor-made offer. The costs include transport, building the Baby Builder, an expert guide and of course the complete installation.
